1) Common guide

- The certificate issued in foreign countries is original and has to ① notarized in Korean translation (not English translation) and ② certified in Apostille or consular verification. You must receive both ① and ②. But if the documents are written both Korean and English, You don't have to get a notarized translation.
- A notarized translation must be a real. If document notarized from non-notarized translation company (or website) or has been arbitrarily translated is not accepted.
- All documents must be submitted within Tuesday 17 November, 2026 at 17:00.
- ▶ Degree certificate (or certificate of graduation with the name of the degree)
- When submitting applications, those from foreign universities (or graduate schools) must obtain notarization of Korean translation and Apostille (or consular) confirmation in the original certificate of degree submitted.
- This certificate may be a copy, but the Apostille (or consular) in this certificate must be the original.
- If you are from a Chinese university (or graduate school), you must submit a "certificate of education of the Chinese Ministry of Education (English)" and a "notarized copy of the degree certificate issued by the school".(can be issued by the Chinese Education Ministry's Center.(<http://www.chsi.com.cn>))

► transcript

- When submitting applications, those from foreign universities (or graduate schools) must obtain notarization of Korean translation. (Apostille (or consular) confirmation is not required about this document.)
- If the grade system is not 4.0, 4.3, 4.5, or a percentage system, the explanatory data for the grade evaluation shall be submitted together with the documents submitted. In addition, explanatory materials are issued by the university (the graduate school) (the official letter format is also possible) or issued by the country where the university (the graduate school) is located. and If you do not submit, you may be disadvantaged.
- If the grade system is 4.0, 4.3, 4.5, but the percentage system is not listed, documents that can be verified with full marks (or percentages, etc.) must be provided additional submissions are required.
- Documents or forms in which a seal or signature must be entered, but if this is omitted, it's possible that will be disadvantaged about that.

2) Apostille and consular verification methods

(1) In the case of documents of the Apostille Convention States, can progress that.

※ The Apostille Convention States can be found at [<https://www.apostille.go.kr/gb/app/appIndex.do>].

※ Chinese submit documents from the "Chinese Higher Education Student Information Network without an Apostille (or consular)" and "the original of the Apostille" as an exception.

► How to apply

- Official documents (national and public schools, etc.) : Issuance of official documents of the relevant country > Visiting the institution issuing the Apostille > Application for issuance > Examination of the issuing institution > Issuance
- Non-Official documents (private schools, etc.) : Issuance of non-official documents of the relevant country > Notarization of notarized offices of maritime authorities > Visiting the institution issuing Apostille > Application for issuance > Examination of issuing institution > Issuance
- * In the case of non-official documents, there may be differences depending on the national notary law and the lawyer law, but usually, if you submit it after receiving a notarization from the country, you can check the Apostille.

(2) In the case of documents from non-Apostille countries, consular confirmation must be obtained from the Korean Consul or the diplomatic mission in Korea of the country to which the school of origin belongs.
